

FIRST SOLO PACKAGE TERMS & CONDITIONS

The average student will fly solo after about 12 hours total flying experience. Our $3390 packages are based on these 12 hours, meaning if you still need further instruction upon reaching 12 hours we will still continue your training, however each lesson after 12 hours will be charged at our regular hourly rate or $310 per hour plus landing fees and ground instruction.

You will however need to apply for a DL9 medical (normally issued by your local GP) prior to your first solo, and this is not included in our package.

If at any stage of training towards your first solo you decided not to continue with the training, there will be no refund issued for training not taken. Payment for this package is expected within the first week of your training.

Any package purchased must be used within 12 months of the purchase date. After this time the remaining hours will be forfeited and any continuation of training will be charged at the normal flight training hourly rate.
